

Privacy Policy and Notice of Information Practices

Effective Date: January 1, 2023

BioMarin Pharmaceutical Inc. ("BioMarin," "we," "us," or "our") respects the privacy of visitors to our websites and online services and values the confidence of our customers, partners, patients, and employees.

This Privacy Policy and Notice of Information Practices ("Privacy Notice") sets forth BioMarin's practices regarding the collection, use, and disclosure of information that you may provide through the websites and online services that we operate and that link to this Privacy Notice, as well as through any of our offline services that reference this Privacy Notice (collectively, the "Services"). Please read the entire Privacy Notice before using our Services.

California residents, please see our CCPA-specific notice at the bottom of this notice.

Collection of Information

We may ask you for some or all the following types of information when you register with our Services, access various content or features, submit photos and other content, or directly contact us with questions or feedback:

- Contact information, such as name, email address, postal address, and telephone number;
- Username and password;
- Demographic information, such as age and gender;
- Communication preferences;
- Search queries;
- Stories, comments, photos, and other information collected through your use of our interactive online features; and
- Correspondence and other information that you send to us.

We also may collect certain information automatically when you visit the Services, including:

- Your browser type and operating system;
- Your Internet Protocol (IP) address, which is the number automatically assigned to your computer whenever you access the Internet and that can sometimes be used to derive your general geographic area;
- Other unique identifiers, including mobile device identification numbers;
- Sites you visited before and after visiting the Services;
- Pages you view and links you click on within the Services;
- Information collected through cookies and other technologies;
- Information about your interactions with email messages, such as the links clicked on and whether the messages were opened or forwarded; and
- Standard server log information.

We may use first- or third-party cookies, and similar technologies to automatically collect this information. Cookies are small bits of information that are stored by your computer's web browser. You can decide if and how your computer will accept a cookie by configuring your preferences or options in your browser. You may also click on "Cookie Preferences" on our websites to manage your choices. However, if you choose to reject cookies, you may not be able to use certain online products, services or features available through the Services.

Response to "Do Not Track" Signals

Some Internet browsers include the ability to transmit "Do Not Track" signals. Since uniform standards for "Do Not Track" signals have not yet been adopted, BioMarin does not process or respond to "Do Not Track" signals.

Use of Information

We process your information for a variety of legitimate business interests including, but not limited to, the following examples:

- Providing you with the products, promotions, services, and information you request;
- Contacting you about products, services, and events that we think might be of interest to you;
- Maintaining or administering the Services, performing business analyses, or other internal purposes to improve the quality of our business, the Services, and other products and services we offer;
- Publishing stories, comments, photos, and other information posted in our interactive online features;
- Processing employment applications and inquiries; and
- Customizing and personalizing your use of the Services.

We may also process your information in order to comply with our legal obligations, satisfy any contract between us and you, establish and defend any legal claims, and in specific cases process your information based on your consent.

Sharing of Information

We are committed to maintaining your trust, and we want you to understand when and with whom we may share the information we collect.

- Corporate Parents and Affiliates. We may share your information with our corporate parents and other affiliated entities for a variety of purposes, including business, operational, and marketing purposes. For more information on those entities, see www.biomarin.com/contact.
- Service Providers. We may share your information with service providers that perform certain functions or services on our behalf pursuant to the purposes set out in this Privacy Notice (such as to host the Services, manage databases, perform analyses, or send communications for us).
- Other Parties When Required by Law or as Necessary to Protect the Services. We may disclose your information to third parties in order to: protect the legal rights, safety, and security of BioMarin, our corporate parents and affiliates, and the users of our Services; enforce our Terms of Use; prevent fraud (or for risk management purposes); and comply with or respond to law enforcement, or legal process, or a request for cooperation by a government entity, whether or not legally required.
- In Connection with a Transfer of Assets. If we sell all or part of our business, or make a sale or transfer of assets, or are otherwise involved in a merger or business transfer, or in the event of bankruptcy, we may transfer your information to one or more third parties as part of that transaction.

- Other Parties with Your Consent. We may disclose information to third parties when we have your consent to do so.
- Aggregate Information. We may disclose to third parties information that does not describe or identify individual users, such as aggregate website usage data or demographic reports.

We may allow third parties to place and read their own cookies, web beacons, Local Shared Objects, and similar technologies to collect information through the Services. For example, our third-party service providers may use these technologies to collect information that helps us with traffic measurement, research, and analytics. Local Shared Objects (sometimes referred to as "Flash Cookies") are similar to standard cookies except that they can be larger and are downloaded to a computer or mobile device by the Adobe Flash media player. Please note that you may need to take additional steps beyond changing your browser settings to refuse or disable Local Shared Objects and similar technologies. For example, Local Shared Objects can be controlled through the instructions on Adobe's Setting Manager page. If you choose to refuse, disable, or delete these technologies, some of the functionality of the Services may no longer be available to you.

Social Networking Services

BioMarin has worked with certain third-party social media providers to offer you their social networking services through our Services. For example, you can use third-party social networking services, including but not limited to Facebook, Twitter, and others, to share information about your experience on our Services with your friends and followers on those social networking services. These social networking services may be able to collect information about you, including your activity on our Services. These third-party social networking services also may notify your friends, both on our Services and on the social networking services themselves, that you are a user of our Services or about your use of our Services, in accordance with applicable law and their own privacy policies. If you choose to access or make use of third-party social networking services, we may receive information about you that you have made available to those social networking services, including information about your contacts on those social networking services.

Security and Retention

We maintain reasonable security procedures to help protect against loss, misuse or unauthorized access, disclosure, alteration or destruction of the information you provide through the Services. However, no data transmission over the Internet or stored on a server can be guaranteed to be 100% secure. As a result, while we strive to protect your information and privacy, we cannot guarantee or warrant the security of any information you disclose or transmit to us online and cannot be responsible for the theft, destruction, or inadvertent disclosure of your information. In the event that we believe that the security of your information may have been compromised, we will endeavor to give you appropriate notice as quickly as possible, including by email, and in accordance with applicable laws.

You are responsible for maintaining the confidentiality of your account password and for any access to or use of the Services using your password, whether or not authorized by you. Please notify us immediately of any unauthorized use of your password or account or any other breach of security.

Your information will be retained only for so long as reasonably necessary for the purposes set forth in this Privacy Notice, in accordance with applicable laws.

Children's Privacy

BioMarin respects the privacy of children, and we are committed to complying with applicable legislation, including the US Children's Online Privacy Protection Act (COPPA) and the EU General Data Protection Act (GDPR). The Services do not knowingly collect, use, or disclose personal information from children without prior parental consent, except as permitted by applicable legislation.

If you have questions concerning our information practices with respect to children, please contact us using the form located here.

Your rights, depending on where you live, may include the right to review, have deleted, or stop the further collection of your child's personal information. If you would like to make such a request, please contact us using the form located here.

Your Choices and Your Information

If at any time you wish to stop receiving emails or other communications from us, or if you have submitted information through the Services and would like to have that information deleted from our records, please use the form found here to notify us.

Your rights, depending on where you live, may include the right to object to or request restriction of processing of your personal information, and request access to, erasure and/or portability of your information held by BioMarin, and you may make such a request by contacting us by completing the form found here.

You may also have the right to lodge a complaint with the relevant data protection supervisory authority if you believe that our use of your information violates applicable law.

International Transfers

Some of the parties to whom we disclose your information are located in countries that may not provide the same level of data protection as your home country. We take appropriate steps to ensure that such recipients of your information are bound to duties of confidentiality, and BioMarin implements measures such as the EU standard data protection contractual clauses to ensure that any transferred personal information remains protected and secure.

Links to Third-Party Content

As a convenience to our visitors, the Services may link to a number of sites, services, and other content that are operated and maintained by third parties. These third parties operate independently from us, and we do not control their privacy practices. Such links do not constitute an endorsement by BioMarin of the content or the persons or entities associated therewith. This Privacy Notice does not apply to third-party content. We encourage you to review the privacy policies of any third party to whom you provide information.

Policy Updates

This Privacy Notice may be revised from time to time as we add new features and services, as laws change, and as industry privacy and security best practices evolve. We display an effective date on the policy in the upper left corner of this Privacy Policy so that it will be easier for you to know when there has been a change. If we make any material change to this Privacy Notice regarding use or disclosure of personal information, we will provide advance notice through the Services. Small changes or changes that do not significantly affect individual privacy interests may be made at any time and without prior notice.

CCPA Privacy Notice (Notice for California Consumers)

Why?

The California Consumer Privacy Act, as amended by the California Privacy Rights Act (collectively, “CCPA”) gives California residents the right to know what Personal Information BioMarin Pharmaceutical Inc. (“BioMarin,” “we,” “us,” or “our”) collects about them, including whether it is being sold or disclosed to third parties.

In this Notice, “Personal Information” (or “PI”) means any information that identifies, relates to, describes, or is capable of being associated with you or your household, whether directly or indirectly.

The CCPA also grants certain rights to California residents, including the right to delete their Personal Information (subject to certain exceptions) and the right to prevent BioMarin from selling their Personal Information. Companies are also prohibited from retaliating or discriminating against consumers for exercising their rights under the CCPA.

All companies need to collect and disclose consumers’ Personal Information for everyday business purposes, marketing, and maintenance of the safety, security, and integrity of their websites and other assets, among other reasons. This Notice provides the information required under the CCPA and applies to both BioMarin’s online and offline activities. For more information about how we collect, use, and disclose information through our websites and online and offline services, please review our Privacy Policy and Notice of Information Practices located at <https://www.biomarin.com/data-privacy-center>.

What?

The types of Personal Information we collect and disclose depends on your relationship and interaction with BioMarin. Please review the information below to learn about our data collection and disclosure practices generally. The information below describes the categories of personal information we have collected in the preceding 12 months, along with the categories of sources from which the personal information was collected, the purposes for collecting or disclosing the Personal Information, and the categories of third parties to whom we disclose the personal information.

We have not sold or shared Personal Information about California consumers in the past twelve months. Relatedly, we do not have actual knowledge that we sell or share Personal Information of California consumers under 16 years of age. For purposes of the CCPA, a “sale” is the disclosure of Personal Information to a third party for monetary or other valuable consideration without the data subject directing us to do so. A “share” is the disclosure of Personal Information to a third party for cross-context behavioral advertising, whether or not for monetary or other valuable consideration, without the data subject directing us to do so.

In addition to the purposes for collecting and disclosing Personal Information described in the information below, BioMarin may collect and disclose any and all Personal Information to our service providers and corporate affiliates (but only as necessary or appropriate to perform legitimate business purposes). We also collect and disclose any and all Personal Information as necessary to: comply with laws and regulations; monitor, investigate potential breaches of, and enforce compliance with BioMarin's policies and procedures and legal and regulatory requirements; comply with civil, criminal, judicial, or regulatory inquiries, investigations, subpoenas, or summons; and exercise or defend the legal rights of BioMarin and its employees, affiliates, customers, contractors, and agents. We will not collect additional categories of Personal Information nor use the Personal Information collected for additional purposes without providing you notice.

Your Rights

If you are a California resident, you have the following rights under the CCPA with respect to your Personal Information, subject to certain exceptions and exemptions:

- Right to Notice: Before or at the time we collect Personal Information from you, you have the right to receive notice of the Personal Information to be collected and the purposes for which we use it. This Notice is intended to satisfy this requirement. You also have the right to request that we disclose to you the categories of Personal Information we have collected about you in the preceding 12 months, along with the categories of sources from which the Personal Information was collected, the purpose for collecting or selling the Personal Information, the categories of third parties to whom we disclosed the Personal Information, and the categories of third parties to whom we sold the Personal Information, if any.
- Right of Access: You have the right to request that we disclose or provide you with access to the specific pieces of Personal Information we have collected about you in the preceding 12 months.
- Right to Deletion: You have the right to request that we delete the Personal Information we collect from you. However, in certain situations we are not required to delete your Personal Information, such as when the information is necessary in order to complete the transaction for which the Personal Information was collected, to provide a good or service requested by you, to comply with a legal obligation, to engage in research, to secure our websites or other online services, or to otherwise use your Personal Information internally in a lawful manner that is compatible with the context in which you provided the information.
- Right to Correction: You may request that we correct any inaccurate Personal Information we maintain about you.
- Right to Limit the Use of Your Sensitive Personal Information: You have the right to limit the use of your Sensitive Personal Information to the purposes authorized by the CCPA. We do not use Sensitive Personal Information for purposes beyond those authorized by the CCPA.
- Right Not to Be Subject to Discrimination: You have the right to be free from discrimination or retaliation for exercising any of your rights under the CCPA as described above.

You can exercise your rights by calling 1-800-983-4587 (toll free) or by completing and submitting the webform found here.

Verification: We value the security and confidentiality of your Personal Information. Therefore, if you exercise your right to notice, right of access, right to deletion, or right to correction, we must first verify your identity to make sure that you are the person about whom we have collected Personal Information. We will verify every request carefully.

- Along with your request, we will ask that you provide us with a scanned copy of a government-issued ID and/or use a multi-factor authentication process to confirm your identity.

You may also authorize someone else to submit these requests on your behalf. To do so, you may designate directly with us another person who may act on your behalf by providing us with a notarized copy of power of attorney, or ask the authorized agent to provide us with a copy of your written permission and a scanned copy of their own government-issued ID.

Financial Incentives

You have the right to be free from discrimination or retaliation for exercising any of your rights under the CCPA. We may, however, charge a different price or rate, or provide a different level or quality of goods or services to you, if that difference is reasonably related to the value provided to BioMarin by your Personal Information. Further, we may offer you financial incentives in return for your Personal Information. Should we offer such programs, we will provide you with additional information at the time you enroll.

Disclosure About Direct Marketing for California Residents

California Civil Code § 1798.83 permits California residents to annually request certain information regarding our disclosure of Personal Information to other entities for their direct marketing purposes in the preceding calendar year. We do not distribute your Personal Information to other entities for their own direct marketing purposes.

Contact Us

Call 1-800-983-4587 (toll free) or email us at dataprivacy@bmrn.com to contact us with questions regarding this Notice.
